Access Policy

1.1 Scope

This document details the Access Policy applied to the SCIGNE platform.

1.2 Access Policy

Access to the services of the SCIGNE platform is open to users from the Grand-Est region, as well as to national and international partners.

1. These users in particular include entities:

   - Focusing primarily on research, experimental development and innovation, including the application of their results in the practice;
   - Focusing primarily on education and dissemination of education, culture and prosperity;
   - Other entities with activities in the public interest.

2. Other entities may be granted access to the SCIGNE platform for the purpose of scientific, research, educational and innovation projects. In that case, the entity concerned shall ensure that the SCIGNE platform is used in relation to such activities only.

If the requested resources have been funded by a project that allow providing these resources to that user, access is free of charge. Otherwise, a financial contribution proportional to the amount of resources will be requested from the user. The use of the SCIGNE platform resources is arbitrated by the steering committee.

The access to the SCIGNE platform cannot be legally claimed.
